CENTRO DEL PROFESORADO BOLLULLOS-VALVERDE is one of the three Teacher Training Centres in Huelva and one of the thirty-two centres of the Sistema Andaluz de Formación Permanente del Profesorado (Andalusian Longlife Teacher Training Net). The aim of this net is to improve the teaching practice of teachers working in state schools. It is an official centre dependent on the “Consejería de Educación” (Education authority), Junta de Andalucía (Andalusian government). The Andalusian government has full competences in education.

The Andalusian Teacher Long-life Learning Plan establishes the action lines regarding teacher training, according to the interests and priorities of the education system. These interests and priorities, together with the diagnosis of educational centres' necessities carried out in the centre area, are taken into account to define the lines to be developed in each teacher training centre annually. We are in charge of 92 schools with a teacher community of about 1900 infant, primary, secondary, adult and vocational training teachers.

Among others, we provide intercultural support, being immigration a relevant matter in our area due to the agricultural migration movement. Different community programmes have been developed regarding this fact.

The organisation operates in the field of adult education, formal and informal vocational training, personal development planning, community development, economic regeneration and international development, and embedding cross-cutting themes such as intercultural competence and the global dimension. The partnership draws expertise from an international field to deliver its services.

Our centre is actively involved in the improvement of teacher training regarding the European Key Competences (www.competenciasbasicashuelva.com)
